WEST NIGHT HIGH SCHOOL

Administration

For nearly three years the administrative affairs of West Night High School have been more than adequately handled by Mr. Paul W. Cutshall and Mr. W. H. Evans, principal and assistant principal, respectively.

Their hours are long, their work is hard, the gratitude they receive is usually small. It is only at times like this when we pause to think back over the year that has passed that we give proper credit to the administrators of our school. To repay them to some small extent, let this serve as a reminder to them that we, the students of West Night, have not forgotten and will not forget the work they have done in our behalf. They have labored over our credits, they have arranged schedules for our benefit, they have tried to make our school burden lighter and more pleasant. For these and countless other reasons, we take this opportunity to thank them and to hope they will continue to be in our midst, aiding, encouraging, and advising us.

Faculty

Night after night during the past year the students of West Night have worked with and been moulded by the members of the faculty. Seldom do we give any thought to the work they are doing for us. We think of them only in the light of the work we have to do for them. In this the final summation of the year, it is well that we note, for our own benefit and for their encouragement, the fact that we have not been as unappreciative as we may at times have seemed.

We realize that without their continued efforts and inspiration we would never have reached the goal that we have attained or toward which we are still striving. Therefore, let us pause briefly, in these the last moments of the year, to thank and to assure them that we have not been completely thoughtless of their efforts for us.

1942 Senior Class History

As a member of the graduating class of 1942, it is a privilege to enumerate the aims and accomplishments of this class. For many of us it is the end of a long and tedious struggle to attain our goal, which is to graduate and become members of the long list of alumni, for which we can be justly proud. We have probably not attained a higher goal than any other class, except that we have felt honored to have a part of our ranks thinned through volunteering and being drafted in the great Army of the United States. For that we claim especial note.

We hope we will be remembered by the school for those things of which we were a part. Through the year we have endeavored to keep up the traditions for which West Night has been for years well known —this is scholarship and opportunity to participate in educational program. We feel that some of our class-mates have been particularly outstanding in leadership, literary ability representative of American ideals. However, as a group we have been and will be just one of those small groups in the passing parade through this institution of learning.

Classes

In the following pages an attempt is made to permit students' pictures to be placed in classes where through association, memories will continue long after their normal existence. For example, all students attending a particular class on a particular night will be found on one picture, together with the names of their class-mates and instructors. It is hoped that by this method a lasting impression will be kept in the minds of those who attended West Night in 1941-1942.

Voice and Echo Staffs

Another year has rolled around at West Night and a trying one for most members of the faculty and fellow students. Yet, we are taking time to pause for a brief respite to introduce a few of the faithful staff members who have made these publications possible.

This year the Annual was published under most difficult conditions. Many of our loyal students are giving their services to Uncle Sam while others are toiling hard in defense plants, generally too busy to spend much time at school. As a result, a unique plan was devised to handle the many details connected with the 1942 Year-Book. In brief, it consisted of different committees under the direction of students and guided by a member of the faculty.

For example, the art department was headed by Miss Clare Hoffman, a member of Mr. Porter's art class. The business details were capably handled by Virginia Schroeder. Literary contributions were made by James Salisbury, Miss Rosemary Kuhn, Georgia Huenefeld, John Appel and others.

In the Voice during the past year the editorial and literary aspects were probably the best which were found at West Night for a long time. This undoubtedly was true because of the persistence and ability of John Appel and Lou Tabakow, who shared honors as co-editors of this publication. Most of the creative material was contributed by Miss Andrea Blackwood. Henry Westermeyer did an excellent job of art layout work. The production was handled by John Terhar and a lot of arm movement was supplied by Ed Fullemann and Mr. Young. Blanche Freckmann did a fine job of filling in in various capacities.

In connection with the photography, an old-timer, Bob Bahmann, is to be especially commended. Charles Balzer made the clever caricatures of members of the faculty. Mr. Kemble, for a beginner, got a good start and should be given credit for his literary criticism and editorial ability. Mr. Young tried his best to see that the finances were adequate and to supervise both projects generally.

The West Night Bowling Club closed a successful season on April 29th after 28 weeks of bowling. It was successful not so much because our members became expert bowlers but also a success because of the social life created within the club.

Many interesting events took place during the year along with numerous high scores. There were a few not-so-high scores but we must not talk about them. Our pictures were taken on January 24th and team matches occurred throughout the year. Our annual party, also held at the Friars Club, was a success in every respect, however there was some longing by us for those whom we would liked to have had with us.

During the season, a number of our boys were prevented from taking part all year because of the war. Two have already been called into the service. These are our president, William Tetlow and Norman Fielman, a star of the Zips team.

We sincerely believe that the club has been a great benefit to all of those who found time to take part in its activities. We only hope the club will see brighter years and we who are leaving will at some time or other again be associated with the members of the West Night Bowling Club.

–Georgia Huenefeld.

West Night Hi-Y

This year West Night became one of the first, if not the first, night high school in the country to sponsor a Hi-Y Club according to the YMCA authorities. If our club is successful, Hi-Y clubs will be started in other night schools.

The purpose of Hi-Y is to create and maintain in the school and community a greater Christian spirit and character. The West Night Hi-Y Club has tried by its various activities to live up to this code.

On February 13th, Hi-Y held a Sweetheart Dance in the gym. The Sweetheart was elected by popular vote among the student body.

On April 25th, in collaboration with the Senior Class, the Hi-Y Club helped to make the Moonlight Boat Ride a success.

During the school year, Hi-Y has had a box in the front hall to collect tax stamps for the student's aid fund.

The officers of the club are: Ed Suerkamp, President; Jule Frank, Vice-president; Jim West, Treasurer; and Frank Welker, Secretary. Mr. Droste was the faculty sponsor of the organization.

Dramatic Club Play Reading Group

The purpose of the Play Reading Group, a new venture in West Night extra-curricular student activities, is to enable its members to derive the maximum enjoyment from the reading of modern plays.

The group owed its inception to the suggestion of our untiring Mr.Jerome H. Cook, of Room 310. Under his enthusiastic leadership we read and enjoyed a goodly number of modern plays.

The derisive comedy "Beggar on Horseback", Eugene ONeill's impressive "The Hairy Ape", "The Green Pastures", and other masterpieces by contemporary dramatists were some of the selections.

Since no special histrionic abilities are required for this method of reading and enjoying the drama, admittance to the group was by no means limited to the dramatically inclined.

We hope future classes will continue to make use of the opportunity to become acquainted with good plays and at the same time spend an interesting and stimulating hour after class.

Above all, we wish to thank Mr. Cook for giving so freely and unstintingly of his time and efforts far "beyond the call of duty", as it were.

–John Appel.

Georgia Huenefeld – Prom Queen

On March 28th, West Night put over one of the most successful extra-curricular activities in recent years, namely, the Prom. It was the concensus that the setting for this gala event was the beautiful and spacious ballroom of the Cincinnati Club. More than 200 students, friends and faculty members attended. The faculty was well represented by Mr. Cook, Mr. Droste and his wife, Mr. von Walden and his wife, Miss Ruta, Mr. Becker, Miss Costello and their guests.

The orchestral background was furnished by Ches Wahle and a 17-piece orchestra with vocalist. One of the highlights of the evening was the Hawaiian dance with an authentic Hawaiian costume which was given by Miss Mildred Lorenz.

From the thirteen candidates who were nominated, Georgia Huenefeld was selected Prom Queen by a large majority. In a demure manner she received the ovation of those who attended. Everyone present voiced his pleasure and enjoyment.

THIS IS OUR -V- FOR VICTORY PICTURE.

The Hi-Y Sweetheart Dance will go down in West Night history as being a great success. It was the first real project which this new organization sponsored. There is no doubt from the number of people who attended and the interest which was displayed at the dance, that this endeavor was well chosen. During the evening a rhythmic five-piece orchestra furnished dance music.

Mr. Droste and Hi-Y boys served refreshments and sandwiches, and several students supplied singing and dancing talent. The highlight of the occasion was the nomination of the Sweetheart, who incidentally was Miss Sue Drake. In this writer's opinion, the best display of high group spirit was in the Sweetheart Presentation March and ceremonies. We are looking forward next year to a bigger and better Sweetheart dance and hope that the tradition will continue at West Night High School.

Sue Drake—HiY Sweetheart

Snaps

ROW 1—Scene in Girls' Gym during HiY Sweetheart dance. No, it is not a dice game, but boys betting on the 1956 World Series.

This number?? is one amourous embrace celebrating a "corrupt bargain" between Sue Drake and the Hi Y ringleader, which resulted in the ill-gotten honor of the Hi Y Sweetheart.

ROW 2—Familiar scene in Principal's office. Mr. C. is undoubtedly pondering a problem of great magnitude or is it Spring?

Prom Queen and guy what brung her. Intimate scene of deep emotion. Wonder what the Prom Queen will do with the cup.

Drum Majorette, showing shapely display of baton throwing or something. Setting for this raucous occasion was Hi-Y Sweetheart Dance. So what?

ROW 3—Whoops! Here's the jackpot prize at the Prom. Ladies and Gents, here's the most stupendous, collosal act in the world, Little Millie, see how she wiggles, see how she sways like a bamboo pole in a gale! Whatta hand she got from the boys!

Stuffed Shirt (?) and red-head date. Note to Esquire—Don't use this 1910 model as a new fad. Very correct and erect couple. Suit was probably rented and red head probably couldn't get another date.

Sue Drake in or out of a dress at the Prom. Crowds of people stared at the curl on top of of this damsel's noggin', but no one seemed to notice it. Notice the "sang froid" or frigid look. Well, say it isn't so!

Social Calendar

SEPTEMBER—

15—School Opens—Tra-la-la. Notice a lot of day school kids around, choice, too.

17—Classes are so big that the school plans to rent a hall or two in order to hold 'em.

19—Unusual amount of switching of classes when new teachers discovered—Mr. Kemble, Miss Andris, Miss Costello.

OCTOBER—

2—First Gym dance—biggest in school history. Jitterbugs galore.

7—Mr. Moore and Mr. Von Walden stopped feuding for one bowling night due to exhaustion.

16—Another gym dance—big success.

30—Hughes Open House. First Holiday for Night School—My!

NOVEMBER—

4—"VOICE" out on time tonight although two issues behind. Bad start but good issue.

11—Armistice Day—another break—Holiday.

20-21—Thanksgiving Holiday.

26—Bob Elick left for the Army—Good Luck!

28—"Pop" Evans looked into the safe tonight for the lost chord.

DECEMBER—

3—First Semester exams. A day of reckoning.

5—Skating party in behalf of the Dramatic Club.

9-10-11—And still more exams—not to mention a war going on. This is a private one between me and that blamed subject.

12—John Appel seen with his hair combed and not flustered.

13—U. S. History class Christmas party ends in riot. Student mimics Mr. Y.'s antics too well—for Mr. Young and he got mad.

15-31—Christmas vacation period.

Social Calendar

JANUARY—

1-2—Vacation continues.

5—Second semester begins.

7—Bill Tetlow departed for parts unknown in private's uniform. Nice goin', son.

10—Sue Drake found alone—no men around for a change.

15—First air-raid practice. Seemed silly to move on that four bell signal and stay along the wall away from the window.

16—Elbert Poe and Jane Kobman announce engagement. Draft-proofing?

FEBRUARY—

2—Andrea Blackwood seen sliding down bowling alley, face first.

11-12—Exams, exams, exams.

13—Andrea Blackwood was actually seen in a good humor. What's the matter, Ferdinand? Are you getting soft?

14—West Night Cuties go strong for men in uniform. Wish I were a soldier! Boy!!

15—Sue Drake got sweetheart award at Hi-Y dance by hook or crook.

MARCH—

2—"Brute" Salisbury seen pushing beloved member of faculty down flight of stairs because he thought she wouldn't let him "pass".

12—Prom Queen candidate "lined up" by Mr. Y. . . . for picture, silly.

19—Talent Show—? "Dopey" Salisbury, "Silly" Suerkamp, "Wacky" West, "Luscious" Freeman, "Basso" Fulleman, "Duchin" Hazard, and others performed.

21—Lonnie Cornachione getting "tough" with faculty. Interesting, I mean the argument, of course.

28—Junior-Senior Prom. Big night to celebrate with no punches pulled. Lots of dancing and nourishment. Faculty and students let down their hair. Wound up at ye Primrose Gardens, Ky. Whatta night. Georgia Huenefeld, Prom Queen, beaming all over.

30—Short term begins. Marj Flowers falls in—love for the upteenth time.

Social Calendar

APRIL—

1—April Fool's Day—Debonair Cliff Reig seen without his brief case.

2-3-6—Spring vacation.

10—"Sassy" Salisbury did not yip once tonite. What a lucky break.

11—Ed Suerkamp gets date with S. D., the "sucker."

20—"Abe" Cutshall approached by Warner Bros. for coming Lincoln movie.

MAY—

2-3—West Night Travel Club trip to Mammouth Cave. Faculty member looks for Mint Juliposium, a rare formation. Georgia Huenefeld got cold from riding in an open job—she says. Everyone looked mighty bad on Monday.

7—Virginia Schroeder dunning delinquent subscribers to "Voice" and "Echo".

8—"Lanky" Saler still around.

9—Mr. Kemble getting gray hair (what little he has) over being drafted.

12—Ed Kipp and M. S. that way about each other.

14—Sugar rationing. I'll bet they don't ration my "Sugar".

18—"Blackout" practice and did we practice in the dark, but we're not saying what—(woo-woo). What about that "College" Roessler and "Pretty Boy" Zang?

22—Even ghost footsteps would be appreciated. Halls rather empty.

27—Blanche Freckmann seen wrestling with faculty member.

JUNE—

10—End in view.

23—School closes.

27—Graduation.

The Senior Class Will

We, the Senior Class of 1942, having completed our four year stretch, with a year added for bad behavior, being of soundless mind, and under no undue duress (not much!) do hereby bequeath, bestow, and begrudgingly publish, make known, and proceed with our last will and testament.

ITEM To Mr. Cutshall, our beloved principal, we leave the thought that we didn't mind coming to school–it was just the principal of the thing.

ITEM To Mr. Evans, our highly esteemed assistant principal, we endow with one set of Tinker Toys to play with after school.

ITEM To Miss Bisceglia, our shorthand teacher, we bequeath one box of sand to make her hen scratches in.

ITEM To the Chemistry Department we leave a door to the street so they can make their Hydrogen Sulfide on the outside, and not smell up the inside.

ITEM To Mr. Cook, our dynamic dramatic coach, we leave one basket, to gather up the fruits of his labor.

ITEM To Mr. Young, who, although he may not know how to swim, knows all the best dives in town, be endowed with one white coat, so he won't mind blonde hair on his shoulder.

ITEM To Miss Kyle, the best typing teacher in her room, we leave one light bulb, to recall the "Shining Example" set by some of her pupils this last year.

ITEM To Mr. Kemble, one of the Senile Shakespeareans, we leave the title of "Old Faithful" because he blows up at least once an hour.

ITEM To Mr. Moore, we bestow one dozen alarm clocks; maybe their combined noise will keep his class awake.

ITEM To the Latin Department, if any, we give the following poem in final dedication to their hard-earned appreciation.

Latin's a dead language,
As dead as dead can be;
First it killed the Romans,
And now it's killing me.

ITEM To Mr. von Walden, our "walled-in flower", we leave one mammoth cave, located here in Cincinnati.

Honorable Mention

One of the blessings that comes after a task is well done, is the opportunity to pause and reflect over the trials and tribulations, the pleasures and headaches that have been experienced. During 1941-1942, conditions had to be considered and met such as students preoccupied in the war effort and draft and the slowly diminishing enrollment. Yet, West Night persevered in its effort to have a commemorative publication for which the student body will be remembered in the annals of West Night history.

Effort that has been put forth on the ECHO has brought hidden talents and interests as well as potential abilities to the surface. Virginia Schroeder assumed many unassigned duties of handling endless necessary administrative and business details. Clare Hoffman performed the creative art work connected with the ECHO Division pages. Bob Bahmann, an old-timer who returned to West Night, continued to donate his photographic skill in the taking of candid and snap shots. To Harold Mann our personal gratitude is conveyed for his loyalty and advice when they were not required and to his competent co-worker, Virginia Delaney, for her stimulating atmosphere. Blanche Freckmann, Andrea Blackwood, Georgia Huenefeld, James Salisbury, Rosemary Kuhn, and others gave of their time and talents to the publication.

To the perseverance and efforts of all these persons West Night gives tribute. Their work will long be remembered in a permanent form in the 1942 ECHO which they made possible. The student body benefitted to a large degree and they themselves gained experience which can not be duplicated. We hope that West Night High School students appreciate this fact as the Faculty Advisor does. To them, many thanks, as well as to those who through their subscriptions, their support of school activities in behalf of the ECHO, the advertisers, the principal, and the administrative staff.

GEORGE C. YOUNG, Faculty Advisor.

ADVERTISEMENTS

Said the Electrical Mouth to the Electrical Ear . . .

"Joe . . took . . father's . . shoe . . bench . . out.
She . . was . . waiting . . at . . my . . lawn."

Passing through the Bell Telephone Laboratories in New York City, you might hear these strange sentences being repeated by an electrical mouth into the transmitter of a telephone.

These sentences contain all the fundamental sounds in the English language that have anything to do with the intensity of sound in speech. By listening to them, by measuring the accuracy with which each sound is carried over the wire, engineers test the quality of the transmitter.

This is only a small example of the work at Bell Laboratories. There, research is carried in constantly in the interest of the telephone user . . . experimenting, testing, figuring out ways to create new equipment or to improve present methods.

Dedicatory

☆ From each of the graduating classes of West Night High School there are young men and women who have reflected glory to our name by their accomplishments. For them we are grateful. Likewise, from these classes there are young men and women who are giving their all for the preservation of liberty and democracy. To the men in the service we dedicate this book. We are confident that they, the alumni of our school, will bring us only honor, as representatives of our great country will set only high standards of conduct. To them we dedicate not only our book, as a symbol of our faith in them, but our lives as a proof of our faith in democracy. —R. A. K.
